SESSION ONE: JULY 13 FROM 10AM-12PM
GETTING YOUR MESSAGE HEARD TO ACHIEVE DESIRED RESULTS
This workshop will focus on an engaging story-based approach for preparing and delivering oral presentations on nearly any topic. Join us for some hands-on experience and an interactive discussion of a practical 5-step plan for crafting oral presentations, especially shorter multimedia presentations that inform or seek support from a broader audience.*
*Participants should bring paper, a pen, and one specific presentation topic (one-sentence summary) to work with during the workshop.

SESSION TWO: JULY 21 FROM 1PM-3PM
UNLOCKING THE POWER OF GROWTH MINDSETS FOR INDIVIDUALS, TEAMS, AND ORGANIZATIONS
The concept of mindsets, which are the underlying set of beliefs and assumptions about human nature, has taken the world by storm. Based on groundbreaking research, this seminar will examine the widespread effects of mindsets that drive learning, collaboration, innovation, and performance. Participants will gain self-awareness about their leadership mindset and develop tools for cultivating a growth mindset in themselves, their teams, and their organizations.

SESSION THREE: AUG. 31 FROM 1PM-3PM
GETTING MOMENTUM: HOW TO START WHEN YOU’RE STUCK
The surprising path to greater productivity lies in the questions you ask of yourself and of the people you work with collaboratively. During this program, UCSB alumni Jason and Jodi Womack will share how you can use the 5 Stages of Momentum and improve your ability to use inquiry-based coaching to bring out the best in yourself and in those whom you lead. The application-based Get Momentum program provides participants with radically simple ways to plan for, engage in, and acknowledge progress on short-term, as well as long-term, projects.

This session will be followed immediately with a book-signing event. Discounted copies of Jason & Jodi’s new book, Get Momentum, will be available for purchase while supplies last.

Presented by the Vice Chancellor for Administrative Services in partnership with Human Resources. All staff are invited to attend these sessions which will be held in Corwin Pavilion.
